Miracle on Baker Street

Benedict Cumberbatch and Martin Freeman play a Victorian Holmes and Watson in a spooky new one-off special

NEW DRAMA
Sherlock
New Year's Day, BBC1 HD, 9pm

The New Year gets off to a spectacular start as Sherlock finally returns to our screens, two long years after the previous instalment.

The darkly dramatic finale to series three saw Watson's wife Mary (Amanda Abbington) exposed as a dangerous assassin and Moriarty threatening a return, but this one-off special doesn't pick up from those exciting events.

Sherlock goes back in time

Instead, Holmes and Watson are jumping back in time to Victorian London, where Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's stories were originally set. In the 90-minute drama, intriguingly entitled The Abominable Bride, the pair find themselves in 1895 and embroiled in a ghost story alongside favourites including Mary, Mrs Hudson (Una Stubbs) and Molly Hooper (Louise Brealey).

We spoke to Benedict Cumberbatch and Martin Freeman about their latest adventure...

Are you excited to be back in the new-look Sherlock?
Cumberbatch Yes, there's something very comforting about playing Sherlock.
Freeman It is special to us. We are very aware of how good it is, and it's so exciting every time we get a new script. They can surprise you and make you gasp – not many shows do that.

How did you feel when you heard about it being a Victorian special?
Cumberbatch I thought they were truly crazy. When I first heard that the BBC were doing an updated version of Sherlock Holmes, I thought, 'What need is there?', but then it was love at first read. It was the same with this idea. At first I thought, 'Whaaaat?', but the minute they pitched it in more detail it was clear to me it was fantastic. I've very much enjoyed scaling Sherlock back to who he is in the books.
Freeman It's a really good idea, but our characters are still the same. Sherlock's still a genius and I'm still a slightly exasperated but admiring friend. But in Victorian times a gentleman was a gentleman, so Watson can't swear at him.

Did you enjoy the costumes?
Cumberbatch I was really excited about getting to change my hair, I immediately asked if I could get it cut. I've absolutely loved it. It's going to be a bit of a wrench going back to be honest.
Freeman I get a good moustache! Of course, to us it's a bit of a joke, but Victorian men did look like that.

Fans flocked to see you filming in London – was that off-putting?
Cumberbatch It's surreal because the fans aren't intrusive, but you're very aware of a thousand people standing on the opposite pavement.
Freeman It can be difficult when people are very close, when they're literally clapping you, cheering, taking pictures – it's not easy, but we're very glad that people love it.
Cumberbatch The show means a lot to a lot of people and they travel across time zones to see us. I'm not on social media, so I try to say hello. People still get over-excited, which makes it difficult to have a normal conversation, but I try. I do sympathise, though – if I'd been near Star Wars when it was made and I had met Han Solo I'd have been unable to speak. Also, it's possibly the easiest audience you'll ever have. You say something vaguely funny and they laugh for half an hour.

Martin, what's it like working with your partner Amanda Abbington, who plays Mary?
I've always been her biggest cheerleader since we met; she's a fantastic actor. Before they cast her, Mark Gatiss and Steven Moffat asked me if I'd had any thoughts on who Mary might be, and I said they wouldn't get anyone better than Amanda. Luckily, that's what they were thinking, too.

Benedict, have you started to take on any of Sherlock's traits?
My mum says I'm a bit more impatient. I'm more alert to detail, yes, but hopefully nothing on the sociopathic scale like him. Sometimes I feel a bit sharper, but sadly I don't get more brilliant because I'm playing someone brilliant. If only that were true.

Mark Gatiss and Steven Moffat

'It's the same show!'

Writers Steven Moffat and Mark Gatiss on why Victorian Sherlock isn't so strange...

So why are Holmes and Watson suddenly wearing bowler hats and pocket watches in Victorian London? The simple answer is that Moffat and Gatiss just thought it would be fun.

'We had an opportunity to do a special and going back to 1895 was irresistible to us,' says Gatiss. 'But it's definitely the same show. It's not a Comic Relief sketch, where we put some period costumes on and say, 'Look at my sideburns'. It's a strong mystery, a full-blooded Gothic horror with the same humour and drama.'

Both writers are amused by the reaction on fan sites, considering the sleuths have always been Victorian characters.

'When we did the first series of modern Sherlock everyone was asking the opposite questions,' recalls Moffat. 'They asked how Holmes could survive in a world with iPhones, and now they're questioning how he can cope without them.'

But even the golden boys of British drama had a tough time getting the idea signed off. 'There was a bit of resistance from the BBC,' admits Gatiss. 'They wondered if we were going mad.'

Benedict Cumberbatch and Martin Freeman take Holmes and Watson to the Victorian era

The fright be

A nine-foot cyborg and the return of River Song – Christmas is hotting up for Doctor Who

NEW SCI-FI

Doctor Who

Christmas Day, BBC1 HD, 5.15pm

As 2015 draws to a close, spare a thought for the universe's weary Time Lord. From a hoedown with Davros and a Zygon invasion to the loss of companion Clara, it's been quite a year for Peter Capaldi's Doctor. Time for a well-earned eggnog by the Tardis log fire? Don't be ridiculous. We haven't had the Christmas Special yet...

The Doctor returns to action with an end-of-season treat that features a hazardous new mission to the 54th Century, star cameos, and the unexpected return of River Song.

'It's festive, it's lighthearted and it's a bit of an adventure,' explains Capaldi, when we hook up.

'It's got the wonderful Alex Kingston in it playing River. Matt Lucas is in it, who's great fun. And Greg Davies, who is great. It's a big, rollicking Doctor Who adventure with a festive and comic edge.'

The Doctor is in a crotchety mood as the special opens. 'No carol singers,' says the sign on the Tardis door. His plans soon change, however, when he gets a knock from Nardole (Matt Lucas), a curious messenger from the year 5343.

Nardole leads him to the monstrous King Hydroflax, a tyrannical nine-foot cyborg with some serious anger management issues (see panel, right).

When the Doctor arrives in the future to take up Nardole's mission, he's surprised to find that Hydroflax's wife is none other than his old flame River Song, not seen since the days of Matt Smith.

Matt Lucas guests as a futuristic messenger

SURPRISE, SURPRISE!

Surprised to see her returning to the show? You're not alone. 'I didn't expect to be back either,' says Kingston. 'Enough time had passed since the last episode for me to think that was that.

'But then I heard through fans that [current and former Who bosses] Steven Moffat and Russell T Davies had said what fun it would be to explore River with Peter's Doctor. And I thought, "Well, they're both men who keep everything close to their chests. They wouldn't entertain the idea unless some seeds were germinating".'

Davies apparently felt that a meeting between the flirtatious River and Capaldi's Doctor would be hormonally supercharged if it were ever to happen. So was it? She guffaws. 'Well, it's a family show, but there have been moments where we've started to call it "Doctor Blue".'

In truth, the flirt factor is pretty low when the pair first reunite, since River doesn't actually realise the Doctor has regenerated to begin with. 'She doesn't really know it's him,' says Capaldi. 'So he's a bit appalled at all her flirting with other creatures, and none of it pointed in his direction.'

fore Christmas

Peter Capaldi's Doctor and Alex Kingston's River Song have a deadly date in the 54th Century

NO DALLYING, PLEASE!

What River is doing with the dreadful Hydroflax will become clear during the episode; suffice to say, she has an ulterior motive for being married to him. One other person definitely wasn't keen on her meeting the new Doctor, however: Matt Smith. Last year the ex-Time Lord admitted – tongue partly in cheek – that he was 'really possessive' over the character and wouldn't want her dallying with Capaldi. 'Anyone else, but don't give him River,' he said at the time.

Kingston says she met Smith earlier this year (confusingly, at her own real-life wedding, to the TV producer Jonathan Stamp) and he was indeed disgruntled. 'He was very cross with me,' she laughs. 'He was at my wedding and he found out. I don't want to say what he said, but he was very cross. I just had to remind him that he and Peter and David [Tennant] are really the same man.'

So what price on River for the next companion? Kingston isn't sure. 'The beauty of River is that she can come in for an adventure and then go off again. She's an established character, so why not keep her like that and bring in a new companion to interact with?'

For his part, Capaldi claims he's just as in the dark about Clara's replacement as the rest of us. 'I wouldn't necessarily know anything about it,' he smiles. 'That doesn't mean I haven't met the new companion. It just means I don't yet know what the outcome of it all is…'

BAD ROBOT GREG DAVIES IS KING HYDROFLAX

How would you describe Hydroflax? He's a petrifying nine-foot cyborg. Hydroflax is the real deal, he's a baddie, and it's really exciting. He's my first out-and-out baddie – unless you count Mr Gilbert from The Inbetweeners.

Apparently he has a sort of detachable head? Yeah, they made a couple of replica heads for me, which are horrible. It's so unsettling to walk into a room and see two of your own heads, one of them with a horribly surprised expression.

Greg Davies as the nine-foot baddie

How long did it take to get you made-up? A couple of hours. They also did a face mould which was actually quite claustrophobic and frightening.

What does he make of Christmas? I can't imagine Hydroflax celebrates Christmas, unless he's eating someone's face.

Did you draw on any past villains when playing him? I don't know whether I did. It's not hard, when you're in the body of a nine-foot cyborg, to feel evil. It helps you tap into your inner evil. (I can't wait to see that in print.)

What else brings out your inner evil? Children: I just remember my teaching years and that's it. Please don't write that down. Or at least say, 'Davies joked...' I don't really have an inner evil.

How did you cope with the secrecy? I've just been told I mustn't talk about it. And I haven't – outside my mum. So if it gets out into the press, you'll know where to go. I can tell you where she lives.

Best Christmas present ever? A wind-up Evel Knievel toy from the 1970s. I found it again in my mum's garage and it's actually pretty rubbish.

And worst? A Laura Ashley calendar that my father bought when I was in my 30s. I said, 'Why on Earth have you bought me this?!' He went, 'Well, you haven't got one, have you?'

Will you be watching on Christmas Day with the family? Definitely. Though I'll spend a lot of it hating myself. But I'm expecting some good feedback from relatives. Seeing me as an evil robot will be another level of amusement for them.

WORDS: OLLY GRANT

It really is the end of an era for Downton Abbey

Goodbye to all that

Harry Hadden-Paton and Patricia Hodge

NEW PERIOD DRAMA

Downton Abbey

Christmas Day, ITV HD, 8.45pm

Back in 2010, nobody could have predicted the global phenomenon that Downton Abbey would become – but now it's hard to imagine TV without it. So it will be a bittersweet moment this Christmas as viewers bid farewell to the Crawleys and their staff.

The special follows on from the final series, which saw Edith (Laura Carmichael) dumped by fiancé Bertie (Harry Hadden-Paton) after her sister Mary (Michelle Dockery) revealed that Edith was little Marigold's mother.

It appears, however, that he hasn't left for good. Will Edith be able to win him, and his feisty mum (guest star Patricia Hodge), round?

'Edith is resilient but heartbroken,' says Carmichael. 'She doesn't push it, she's not going to beg – that's all I can say.'

Michelle Dockery and Hugh Bonneville

By contrast, things look better for Mary and her new husband, Henry (Matthew Goode), who makes a big decision about his future. The question is: can Mary reconcile with Edith after their monumental row in the finale?

MAGICAL MOMENT

'It's such a fascinating dynamic,' says Carmichael. 'They come back together in a way and you see how it has affected them.'

Downstairs, Thomas (Rob James-Collier) is making plans after his suicide attempt, while Carson (Jim Carter) is troubled by ill health.

Fittingly, the episode culminates at the very end of 1925 with a New Year's Eve celebration that sees Lady Rose (Lily James) return with her husband Atticus (Matt Barber) and father Shrimpy (Peter Egan). And as 1926 beckons, each character has their turn in the spotlight in the final scenes.

'It's not necessarily going to be happy for everyone, but there are no cataclysms or drownings or suicide pacts,' explains Carter. 'People's stories are gently wound up in a way that people will be satisfied and pleased with, but they will definitely be crying.'

For the cast, shooting the last ever scene was poignant. 'Every location we wrapped in we were crying, but the last one was so special,' says Carmichael. 'It was a night shoot and all of the crew were in costume. It was really magical and when they shouted, "It's a wrap!", we all had champagne.'

Will Laura Carmichael's unlucky Edith finally find happiness?

Making a killing

A starry cast features in Agatha Christie's thriller

NEW CRIME DRAMA

And Then There Were None

Boxing Day, Sunday 27 December, 9pm & Holiday Monday 28 December, BBC1 HD, 9.05pm

Agatha Christie is best known for compelling whodunnits featuring Miss Marple and Hercule Poirot, but neither sleuth features in her famous 1939 thriller And Then There Were None – the best-selling crime novel of all time.

A star-studded BBC1 three-parter brings the sinister tale to life, and it's the first time the novel has been adapted for British TV. The action is set just before World War Two on Soldier Island, a remote rock off the Devon coast where 10 strangers – from a nervy doctor to a suspicious butler – have been invited for a break by the mysterious and oddly absent Mr and Mrs UN Owen.

As the house party gets underway, a gramophone blasts into life and a voice on the record accuses each of those present of being responsible for various deaths in the past. Amid the confusion, one of the 10 drops down dead and it's not long before the remaining nine start to meet their Maker in ways that chillingly echo the nursery rhyme Ten Little Soldier Boys, a copy of which is placed in each of the rooms.

'It's bleak, grim and quite terrifying,' says Poldark's Aidan Turner, who portrays gung-ho mercenary soldier Philip Lombard. 'I don't think that anybody will guess who is behind the murders – it's really clever.'

As the drama progresses, it becomes a tense psychological thriller as all those on Soldier Island feel increasingly frantic about who the killer might be, especially as there is little hope of rescue when they are cut off from the mainland as the weather closes in.

'People have described this as being like Cluedo, but it's more subtle than that,' says Miranda Richardson, who plays spinster Emily Brent. 'It's about what's beneath the surface and how they are all dealing with what they have done.'

Gather round now... A new BBC2 comedy drama explores how the classic sitcom Dad's Army made it to the screen

NEW COMEDY DRAMA

We're Doomed! The Dad's Army Story

Tuesday 22 December, BBC2 HD, 9pm

Nearly half a decade after it first aired, it's almost impossible to imagine British TV without Dad's Army. The sitcom is arguably the nation's all-time favourite comedy, with its 80 much-loved episodes constantly repeated and even a star-studded movie remake on the way in February.

But, as new BBC2 comedy drama We're Doomed! The Dad's Army Story reveals, the show's start to life was shakier than a drill session led by Corporal Jones.

At the heart of the story are creators Jimmy Perry and David Croft.

John Sessions as Arthur Lowe

Perry, played in the film by Friday Night Dinner star Paul Ritter, was a struggling actor when he took the concept of Dad's Army to producer David Croft (played by Game of Thrones' Richard Dormer), who loved it.

But there were issues from the get-go. Though the cast would end up like a band of brothers, to begin with the creators were terrified they wouldn't gel. Former Coronation Street star Arthur Lowe struggled to nail his lines in early scenes. He was also apparently disgruntled when it emerged that Clive Dunn and John Le Mesurier were being paid more than him.

Tensions erupted between Croft and Perry, too, over Perry's insistence that he play Private Walker himself – a role that eventually went to James Beck.

'It could have been disastrous,' explains Dormer. 'Croft basically said to Perry, "Look, you're a good actor but you're a great writer. If we have a writer in the company, it'll be divisive; they'll think you're giving yourself the best lines". At the time Jimmy was gutted, because his life's ambition was to be a character actor.'

If Perry and Croft's relationship was under strain, however, they faced even bigger issues with BBC bosses. BBC1 Controller Paul Fox, played by Keith Allen, feared veterans would find a World War Two comedy in poor taste.

'The BBC would have cancelled it if they'd read the test results'

RICHARD DORMER

When the pilot episode was shown to a test audience – who hated it – Croft took drastic action. 'He hid the test results in a drawer,' Dormer laughs. 'The BBC bosses would have cancelled it if they'd read them. They were uniformly bad.' Luckily, viewers disagreed. When the show went live, it was a huge hit.

The original cast members

For the We're Doomed! cast, there was a double challenge – playing both the real-life actors and their Dad's Army characters when the drama recreates scenes from the series. For John Sessions that meant playing Arthur Lowe and Captain Mainwaring.

'Seeing myself on the monitor, looking like Arthur, was quite spooky,' says Sessions. 'The tough thing was getting my head shaved because all the bald wigs look awful on high-definition TV.'

Stephen Rea has a murder to solve in Dickensian

A twist in the tales

Charles Dickens' most famous characters embark on some brand new adventures

NEW PERIOD DRAMA

Dickensian

Boxing Day, 7pm & 8.30pm, Sunday 27 December, 7.30pm & 8.30pm, New Year's Day, BBC1 HD, 8.30pm

Outside a west London studio, TV&Satellite Week is sweltering as the British summer makes a rare cameo appearance for the hottest day in a decade. So it's rather surreal to step inside the studio and on to a snow-covered Victorian street.

'Watch out for horse poo!' shouts writer Tony Jordan as a horse and carriage traps straight past the Old Curiosity Shop, Scrooge's rundown house and the Three Cripples pub.

It could be a worrying case of heatstroke – but fortunately we are on the set of Dickensian, BBC1's bold new 20-part drama set in the world of Charles Dickens.

'The idea is to revisit those most iconic Dickens characters, the ones everyone knows from his different books – Scrooge, Fagin, Jacob Marley, Bill and Nancy, Mr and Mrs Bumble – all those people we know and love,' explains Jordan, who created the ambitious series.

'We've taken them out of the novels, put them all in one place and built a world which we have called Dickensian.'

And what a world it is. The set is one of the biggest and most elaborate ever constructed for British television, featuring a 100m-long high street, working shops and pubs, a dockside and numerous alleys for shady dealings.

'The idea is to revisit those most iconic Dickens characters'

TONY JORDAN, WRITER

'We're not really doing an adaptation, because we're not following any of the books,' explains Jordan, the creator of shows including EastEnders, Hustle and Life on Mars. 'Instead, we're inside the world of Dickens. Some of the storylines are prequels to his novels, some are sequels, some is just new stuff I've made up.

'The idea is that because we are in the world of Dickens's imagination, we'll see these characters do something different from what we've seen them do before. It's about taking the characters, taking the world and doing what youngsters call a mash-up.'

Trixie, Patsy and Barbara deliver small bundles of a different kind

The gift of life

A difficult birth disrupts the celebrations at Nonnatus House this Christmas...

NEW PERIOD DRAMA

Call the Midwife

Christmas Day, BBC1 HD, 7.30pm

Call the Midwife Christmas specials can always be relied upon to offer a blend of the heartbreaking and the heart-warming – and this year's offering of BBC1's popular period drama is no exception.

Set during Christmas 1960, the nuns and midwives of Nonnatus House face an agonising time when a confused Sister Monica Joan (Judy Parfitt) goes missing and her anxious colleagues desperately try to find her before it's too late.

Peter Firth as Jacob Marley

As an example, viewers will see Great Expectations' Miss Havisham not as the vengeful older woman who was jilted at the altar, but as a beautiful young woman seen before her life took such a tragic turn.

The all-star cast of Dickensian includes Caroline Quentin as Mrs Bumble from Oliver Twist, Peter Firth as Jacob Marley, Ebeneezer Scrooge's partner-in-crime, and Pauline Collins as the formidable Mrs Gamp from Martin Chuzzlewit.

Meanwhile, Stephen Rea plays Inspector Bucket, one of the very first fictional detectives. 'Bucket is from Bleak House,' says Rea. 'His role here is to look into the murder of a character from another Dickens novel. So I meet characters from different books as I try to solve the murder.

'Writers like Dickens changed the world and altered our landscape. Whether we've read the books or not we all seem to know the characters and the stories.'

There's also angst for Patsy (Emerald Fennell), who is shocked to encounter her girlfriend Delia (Kate Lamb) again, after she was last seen heading home to Wales after suffering a head injury.

FESTIVE HIGHS AND LOWS FOR THE MIDWIVES

There's still time for some birthing drama when a young woman has twins, which causes woe for the girl's aunt, church cleaner Iris Willens (Victoria Hamilton), who is still grieving for her own baby daughter, who died years before.

'The twins' birth was my first breech,' says Strictly star Helen George, who plays Trixie. 'I found it fascinating learning the anatomy of it all and how a breech works.'

Amid the anxiety, there's light relief when the BBC films carols in the church and flamboyant producer Barrington Swann (Adrian Scarborough) ruffles the feathers of some of the nuns, who are less than keen on televising a sacred service.

For Charlotte Ritchie, who plays midwife Barbara Gilbert, the carol concert echoed her family history.

'My grandad, who I never met, used to be a TV producer, he even worked on the Queen's coronation, so it was really strange seeing all the old BBC cameras on set. It was cool to be acting in a time that he would have known.'

Drama round-up

Get set for a ghostly tale and a classic adventure at sea this fortnight

Rafe Spall as Harry Price with Cara Theobold's Sarah Grey

Harry Price: Ghost Hunter

Sunday 27 December, ITV HD, 8.30pm

Everyone loves a cracking ghost story over the Christmas period and this spooky tale of Britain's most famous ghost hunter, Harry Price, played by Rafe Spall, mixes historical fact with fiction in a period thriller that will make you sleep with the lights on.

Set in 1920s London and based on Neil Spring's novel The Ghost Hunters, the one-off drama follows paranormal investigator Harry, who's resorted to faking séances to make a living.

When he's called out to the home of Edward Goodwin, MP, where ghostly goings-on threaten to expose a scandal, the maid, Sarah Grey (Cara Theobold), offers to help him solve the mystery.

'It's a genuinely gripping story,' says Spall, who starred in Charlie Brooker's eerie Black Mirror last Christmas. 'Harry spent his life debunking the supernatural, then it weighed heavily on him that he was disappointing people, so he started making it up – but with severe consequences.'

Moby Dick

Wednesday 30 December & New Year's Eve, Drama, 11am

Get set for a whale of a time as Herman Melville's classic seafaring tale comes to Drama this Christmas in a two-part mini-series featuring an all-star cast.

Set off the east coast of America in 1850, Moby Dick follows the vengeful Captain Ahab (William Hurt) as he descends into madness by obsessively hunting the whale that destroyed his ship and bit off his leg during a past encounter on the high seas.

William Hurt's Captain Ahab

Among the cast is Ethan Hawke as Ahab's first mate Starbuck, Gillian Anderson as Ahab's wife Elizabeth, Donald Sutherland as preacher Father Mapple, as well as British actors Eddie Marsan and Charlie Cox as sailors Stubb and Ishmael.

'The story is incredibly relevant,' says Hawke. 'It's all about greed, and trying to have power over nature, and the arrogance of that. I was really moved by the story.'

Battle of the boffins!

Mad scientist Professor Branestawm takes on a dastardly new rival...

NEW COMEDY

Harry Hill in Professor Branestawm Returns

Christmas Eve, BBC1 HD, 5.20pm

It's not easy being a nutty scientist, as Harry Hill discovers this Christmas when he returns as mad inventor Professor Branestawm in a new BBC1 one-hour special inspired by Norman Hunter's classic stories.

This time round, the professor finds himself facing money worries when his bills literally get out of control.

BRIGHT IDEA

'He gets attacked by his bills and he invents a machine which is meant to make his bills smaller and his cheques bigger, but he gets them mixed up,' explains Hill.

'He's got no money so he might have to sell up and move out of Great Pagwell. It's just an excuse for lots of funny things to happen.'

Connie (Madeline Holliday) the science-mad niece of the professor's long-suffering housekeeper Mrs Flittersnoop (Vicki Pepperdine), suggests that the professor enter the town's best inventing competition to win a cash prize of £1854 and a thruppeny bit – exactly enough money to pay off all his bills.

But standing in his way is rival inventor Professor Algebrain, played by Steve Pemberton.

HERO AND VILLAIN

'Algebrain is described as coming from an unspecified European country and it's been great fun marauding around as a sort of melodramatic villain with a dodgy accent,' smiles Pemberton.

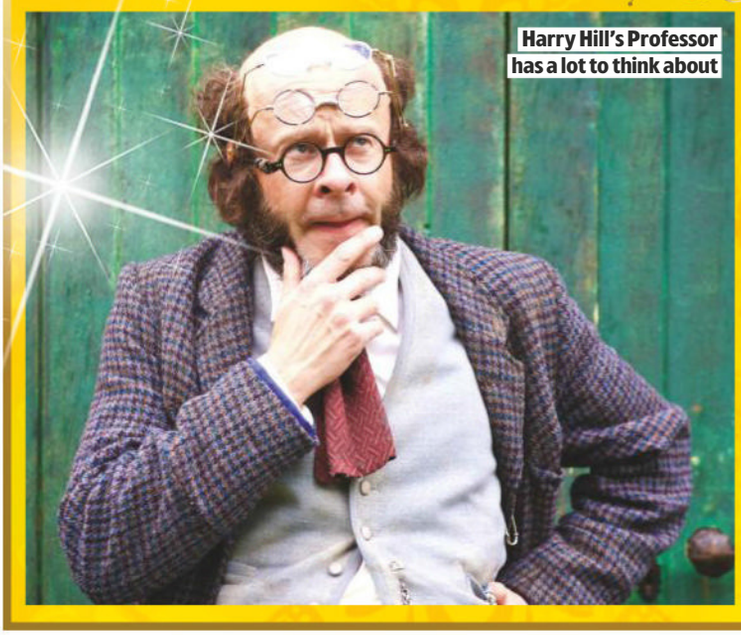

'Algebrain steals the professor's inventions, and also steals Connie by making her his assistant.'

Pemberton is part of a fabulous supporting cast that includes Matt Berry and Diana Rigg.

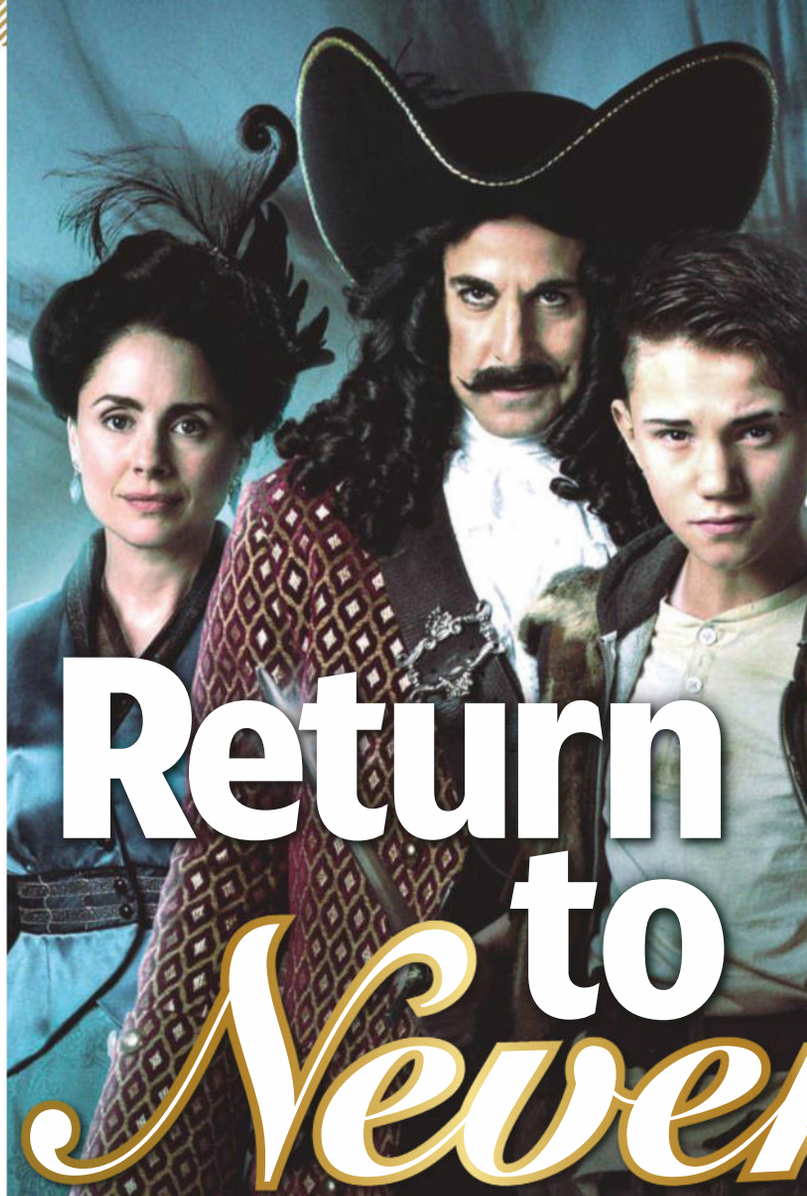

'It's been fun and we've had a lot of laughs together,' smiles Hill, whose own teenage experiments included trying winemaking.

'My friend Adam and I got into making wine when I was 13 or 14,' he chuckles. 'Wine was expensive in the 1970s so we made it from blackberries, potatoes and rice.

'Our parents encouraged it and thought we were young gentlemen with a nose for wine. In fact, we just wanted to make alcohol...'

Harry Hill's Professor has a lot to think about

Return to Never

NEW FAMILY DRAMA

Peter & Wendy

Boxing Day, ITV HD, 8pm

Pirates, fairies and a tick-tocking crocodile take over ITV on Boxing Day, but according to former Breaking Bad star Laura Fraser, this brand-new Peter Pan tale comes with a twist.

'Peter & Wendy is a more unusual Neverland story, as it mixes the traditional elements of the tale with a modern-day setting,' says the Glasgow-born actress. 'Bringing the story up to date makes for a really interesting retelling, and hopefully children will be able to relate to it more.'

The drama follows single mum Julie, played by Fraser, and her 12-year-old daughter Lucy at London's Great Ormond Street Hospital, where Lucy is being treated for a serious heart condition by top surgeon Mr Wylie, played by Stanley Tucci.

'Lucy has been in and out of hospital her whole life,' explains Fraser. 'Julie is facing every mother's worst nightmare – the possibility of losing her child.'

Lucy distracts herself from her impending surgery by reading aloud a dusty, dog-eared copy of Peter Pan to her fellow patients.

That night, she dreams of Peter whisking her off to a magical land where Lost Boys battle dastardly Captain Hook, and a teeny-tiny fairy called Tinker Bell keeps flying off the handle…

'Tinker Bell is a bit bossy, and definitely not a girlie-girl,' says singer Paloma Faith, who plays her. 'She's a bit more like me than the original.

'It was so much fun to fly, but it was painful being in a harness for several days. I'm supposed to look agile and floaty, but I really wasn't like that at all.'

Faith also has a cameo in the

Laura Fraser and Paloma Faith tell us why we'll be hooked on this modern-day Peter Pan present-day scenes, and viewers should look out for the cast playing different characters in both London and Neverland.

'It's a tradition to have dual roles,' says Fraser, who also plays Mrs Darling. 'For example, Stanley Tucci plays the surgeon Mr Wylie, Captain Hook, and Mr Darling. I wish I had three parts, too. I'd loved to have been a pirate.'

In 1929, JM Barrie gifted all the rights to Peter Pan to Great Ormond Street Hospital, so filming there felt extra-special for the Peter & Wendy cast.

'We felt so much compassion for the parents who were passing through with their child on a stretcher or in a wheelchair,' says Fraser. 'It makes you feel grateful for your own child's health.'

Every book, film and TV adaptation has contributed money towards what is now one of the world's leading children's hospitals, and with the 3D movie Pan recently released in cinemas, it seems Peter Pan's adventures will never grow old.

'The story taps into all generations,' says Fraser. 'I think Peter Pan is almost living a Buddhist-like philosophy and his story is about how to be truly free and enlightened. I don't know how to do that, but Peter Pan does…'

Loaded but lonely

David Walliams with Elliot Sprakes, who plays the Billionaire Boy

A stinking rich schoolboy just wants a friend in Billionaire Boy

NEW COMEDY

Billionaire Boy

New Year's Day, BBC1 HD, 7pm

What would you do if you were a billionaire? Buy new clothes or a set of gnashers? Perhaps hire Warwick Davis to be your celebrity butler?

That's exactly what John Thomson's character does in Billionaire Boy, BBC1's adaptation of David Walliams' children's story.

Thomson plays Len Spud, who splashes the cash when he becomes rich by inventing a new toilet paper.

'I felt like a pantomime dame because Len gets to wear so many different outfits,' laughs Thomson. 'I've even got a belt with Len on it in diamonds – it's full on.'

But while Len lavishes money and attention on his gold-digging hand model girlfriend (Catherine Tate), his 12-year-old son Joe (Elliot Sprakes) is lonely in their mansion.

The youngster realises he needs a friend, and leaves his posh public school for the local comprehensive.

The cast includes Walliams as Joe's dinner lady, and Warwick Davis playing himself as Len's celebrity butler.

Warwick Davis plays the butler

'Len says to Joe, "Guess which Harry Potter star is our new butler?" explains Davis. 'So, Joe goes through everyone and I'm bottom of his list – even behind Lord Voldemort!'

Davis makes for a useless butler, but he does help the family. 'He's looking out for Joe and Len and the moral of the story is that money can't buy you happiness.'

So, did Davis enjoy being a butler? 'It's great. I missed out on Downton Abbey but this is like a taste of it.'

BRILLIANT BOOKS

David Walliams counts down Britain's Favourite Children's Books (Boxing Day, Channel 4 HD, 6.30pm). Here are three of his favourites...

The Cat in the Hat (1957)

'Dr Seuss wrote nightmarish stories as they're about things getting out of control, like in this book.'

Stig of the Dump (1963)

'This Clive King story is a great adventure. It taps into something exciting for kids.'

Charlie and the Chocolate Factory (1964)

'I've re-read this Roald Dahl story a few times over the years and it's just breathtaking.'

Desperately seeking Santa

Father Christmas is voiced by Hugh Bonneville

Julia Donaldson's classic children's tale about a lost stick heads to TV this Christmas

NEW ANIMATION
Stick Man
Christmas Day, BBC1 HD, 4.45pm

Martin Freeman is a busy man this Christmas. As well as dressing up in Victorian clothes for a time-jumping Sherlock special, he's also voicing much-loved children's character Stick Man in a BBC1 adaptation of Julia Donaldson's popular book.

Freeman was attracted to the magical one-off film after reading the original story to his own little ones. 'We enjoyed the book as a family for a number of years and my children always loved the epic scale of Stick Man's journey,' he says. 'It's a really special adaptation, filled with festive charm.'

Joining Freeman is a glitzy supporting cast including narrator Jennifer Saunders, Hugh Bonneville, Rob Brydon and Russell Tovey. Author Donaldson is delighted with the talented line-up.

'The narration is terrific – Jennifer Saunders just got it. If that had been clunky it wouldn't have worked at all,' she says. 'And I do think Martin Freeman is brilliant. I have to admit I don't think, "I'm Stick Man, I'm Stick Man" is my best line, but watching him you'd think it was, because he delivered it differently every time.'

Donaldson was inspired to write her charming story, about a lost stick trying to get home for Christmas, after watching her children enjoying the countryside.

'We used to drag our children off for walks and they loved playing with sticks and fir cones – to them a stick could be anything,' she says. 'One of my sons used to play with bits of cardboard, which he would tell me were violins and ice cream cones. Stick Man is a celebration of the imagination.'

But while Donaldson couldn't be happier with the film, don't expect her to sit down and watch it on Christmas Day.

'I never watch TV at Christmas. I was brought up to just play charades,' she laughs. 'I like spending the day eating and drinking, though, and I do enjoy The Snowman.'

I know that voice
Who's avoiding a wooden turn in Stick Man?

Martin Freeman
The Sherlock star plays the lost Stick Man trying to make it back to his family in time for Christmas.

Jennifer Saunders
The Ab Fab comedienne brings Julia Donaldson's words to life as the narrator.

Hugh Bonneville
The Downton Abbey star swaps stately homes for Santa's sleigh to play a very jolly Father Christmas.

Rob Brydon
Listen out for the comic actor voicing a snail, park-keeper, frog, cat, crab, swan and a dad.

Russell Tovey
The Him & Her star plays an enthusiastic dog encountered by our hero on his travels.

Timothy Spall plays Fungus the Bogeyman

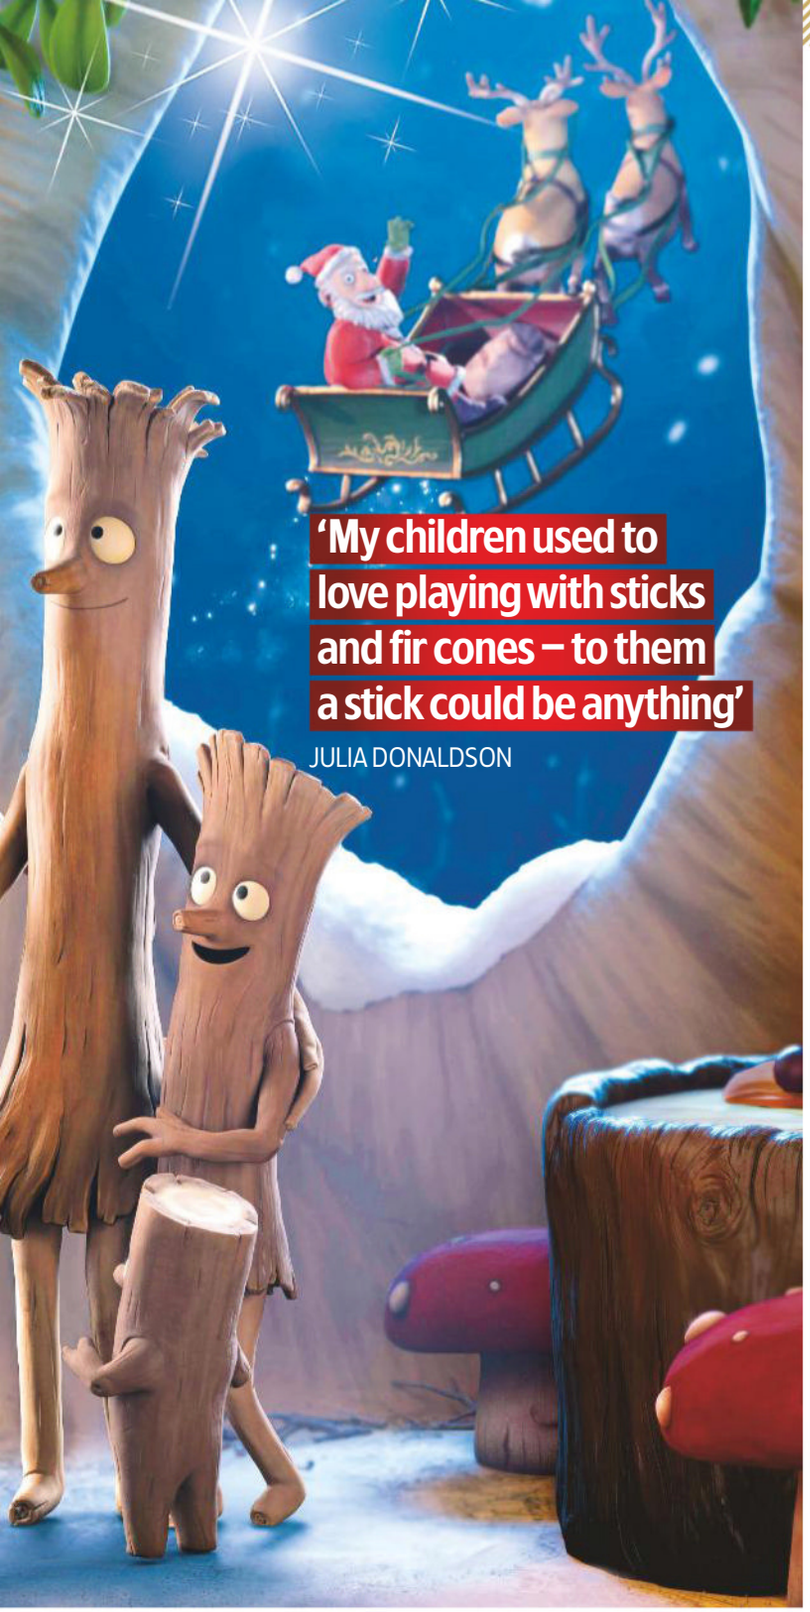

Slime time

Look out, the Bogeys are coming...

NEW COMEDY DRAMA
Fungus the Bogeyman
Sunday 27 December, 6pm, Holiday Monday 28 December, 6.30pm & Tuesday 29 December, Sky1 HD, 6.30pm

TV&Satellite Week is standing besides a picture-postcard cottage on an olde-worlde English high street. In front of us, Victoria Wood is filming a scene with a jolly green giant – or Bogeyboy – called Mould, who has shown up on her doorstep.

'I'm an inventor,' Wood's character, Eve, explains. 'I invented Superduperglue, it's like Superglue, only more duper. It's distilled Bogey bogeys. Wonderful stuff.'

'My children used to love playing with sticks and fir cones – to them a stick could be anything'

JULIA DONALDSON

Welcome to the world of Fungus the Bogeyman, Sky1's adaptation of Raymond Briggs' popular story.

This version follows the adventures of Mould, the kindly young Bogey, who yearns to leave his slimy, subterranean Bogeydom home and find out more about the cleaner, human life on the surface.

BOGEYS ON THE LOOSE

When Mould makes a bolt for freedom, he is pursued by his parents, Fungus (Timothy Spall) and Mildew (Joanna Scanlan). Unfortunately, all three Bogeys become trapped in Daventry and have to attempt to blend in with the human world – with disastrous and hilarious consequences.

'Eve lives in Daventry and rescues Mould, who comes to stay with her. But she has hidden agendas and is not what she seems,' reveals Wood.

As every child knows, the Bogeys prize flatulence above all else. Their motto is: 'I stink, therefore I am'.

'When they start living in the human world, Mildew can't stand her lovely clean kitchen. So she spreads dog poo over the floor,' says Wood. 'That was a painful scene to film in a hot kitchen for two days. It absolutely stank. It was not terribly glamorous, but hopefully viewers will find it very funny.'

More top shows from comedy to countdowns to look out for over the festive season...

Shaun the Sheep and the three troublesome llamas

The Farmer's Llamas

Boxing Day, BBC1 HD, 6.10pm

It's a case of 'Baa humbug' this Christmas as Shaun the Sheep and co get lumbered with three annoying llamas, Eduardo, Hector and Raul. 'They're like a bunch of unruly Asbo teenagers,' explains producer Paul Kewley. 'They love life but they don't think very much'. The troublesome trio wreak havoc on the farm, making Shaun's life a misery. And they caused a few problems for the animators, too. 'One of the challenges was that the llamas are big and the sheep are small, so we had to figure out how to get them all in one shot,' says Kewley. 'Luckily, our puppet-makers can build anything.'

The Nation's Favourite Disney Song

Boxing Day, ITV HD, 6pm

Stephen Mulhern narrates this countdown of classic tracks from popular Disney films. Expect to hear songs from The Jungle Book, Mary Poppins, The Lion King and, of course, Frozen, while the songwriters and those who performed them share their memories.

It's party time for Miss Piggy

Gogglesprogs

Christmas Day, Channel 4 HD, 8pm

We know what the grown-ups think about the current crop of TV shows, now it's time to hear the views of groups of children, aged up to 13, on this year's talking points, from the cakes on Bake Off to the killing of Cecil the lion.

The Muppets

Monday 21 December, Sky1 HD, 8pm

Kermit and pals prepare for the Yuletide special of Up Late with Miss Piggy with her guest, comedy actress Mindy Kaling. It's also time for the crew's Christmas party, while Miss Piggy re-evaluates her relationship with Kermit.

Mammy's Christmas mayhem

Brendan O'Carroll presides over more domestic disorder in two festive specials

NEW COMEDY

Mrs Brown's Boys

Christmas Day, BBC1 HD, 9.45pm
& New Year's Day, BBC1 HD, 10.30pm

Mark's first love Bubbles is a Christmas surprise

When you ask Brendan O'Carroll for his Christmas wish, he doesn't hesitate for a moment. 'I want to make people feel good,' he smiles. 'I love the movie It's a Wonderful Life, and I want a sense of that with Mrs Brown's Boys – with lots of jokes in my stories. Because my life has been full of incredible happenings that's the story I want to tell continually.'

His loud-mouthed Irish matriarch Agnes Brown is back this Christmas for two festive specials on BBC1, plus there's a screening of Mrs Brown's Boys D'Movie (New Year's Eve, 9.15pm, not Scot).

MAMMY MAGIC

In the first special, Agnes is determined to have a quiet Christmas for once. But with eldest son Mark and his wife Betty arguing over the return of his first love, Bubbles, and the constant presence of carol singers, there's not much hope of that.

Buster and Dermot get jiggy in lederhosen

In the second episode, Agnes is preparing to mark the 25th anniversary of her husband's death when she finds herself with an amorous admirer.

Both episodes are full of the usual family chaos, but with unashamedly sentimental storylines and what O'Carroll calls elements of magic.

In fact, 'magical' is a word that crops up frequently in conversation with O'Carroll, who grew up on a Dublin council estate, the youngest of 11 children. Times were tough, but O'Carroll has an enviable ability to turn every negative into a positive.

His first 'truly magical moment' came about when he created the character of Agnes Brown – at first spelt Agnes Browne – for a radio series in the early 1990s.

O'Carroll's appearance as Agnes was all down to chance. 'The actress who was supposed to play Agnes was sick on the day of recording,' recalls the 60-year-old. 'I stepped in and somehow it worked.

'Then after I wrote my first Agnes Brown novel, The Mammy, it was spotted by a bored film producer looking for something to read on the plane home. What are the chances?'

The result was 1999's Agnes Browne, starring Anjelica Huston. Following the success of the film, O'Carroll wrote five Mrs Brown stage plays and performed them for 10 years in Ireland and the UK.

EVERY CLOUD...

But in 2009, O'Carroll faced bankruptcy and informed his cast – many of whom were family and friends – that the curtain would be coming down for good.

Remarkably, Rab C Nesbitt writer Ian Pattison saw the show and recommended it as a sitcom idea to the BBC. The rest is history and O'Carroll is now worth millions.

'It really has been a miracle,' he beams. 'I have got my family and my friends working and travelling with me. And I get to entertain people at Christmas time. Now that's magical.'

Comic Russell Howard makes his acting debut with sister Kerry for a cracking festive family sitcom

NEW COMEDY
A Gert Lush Christmas
Boxing Day, BBC2 HD, 9pm

Spending Christmas with the family can be a testing experience, but it's perfect sitcom material for Russell Howard, writer and star of brand new BBC2 comedy A Gert Lush Christmas ('Gert Lush' being Bristolian slang for 'brilliant').

Howard makes his acting debut alongside his sister, Him & Her star Kerry, as well as Greg Davies, Neil Morrissey and Sophie Thompson.

The 35-year-old comedian plays Dan, who brings his girlfriend Lisa (Hannah Britland) home to meet his exuberant parents and embarrassing siblings, including his sister, Julie, played by Kerry.

The Howards joined TV&Satellite Week for an exclusive photo shoot, and told us about their family traditions…

What can we expect from your new sitcom A Gert Lush Christmas?

Kerry It's very like Gavin & Stacey, that kind of heart-warming show.

Russell The idea of me writing a comedy drama seemed so absurd, but me and my mate Steve [Williams, his co-writer on BBC3's Russell Howard's Good News] thought, 'Oh sod it, let's try'. I wanted to write something about family and Christmas seemed a cool theme.

Did you like working together?

Kerry It sounds sickening but we had a lovely time. I'd do it again.

Russell I wanted Kerry to be in it from the get-go and she gave me a lot of help. It's an odd thing when you realise just how brilliant your little sister is.

This is Russell's acting debut. Is he any good, Kerry?

Kerry Yeah, I want him to do more. His natural trick is to improvise and that's where he gets his comic flair, but I kept telling him to trust his script and commit to what he'd written, because it's amazing. I don't think anyone else would have had the balls to say that to him because he's the boss.

Russell On the first day of filming, I walked past Kerry and clicked my fingers at her to make a cup of tea, which is a joke we do in our house. Sophie didn't know we were related so she spent the first two days just thinking I was really rude.

Was Kerry's character, Julie, based on her?

Russell Julie is an amalgamation of loads of my cousins. They're into spiritualism – we had a party at my house a few years ago and they had an exorcism because there was a bad man who lived in the hall.

Kerry They're all really giddy about the show. They can't wait to tell their friends the character is based on them – they're fighting over it.

Russell Oddly, the closest character is Dan's dad. Our actual Dad is really upset because he wanted someone ripped like Bruce Willis to play him, but it's Neil Morrissey.

Kerry The mother character, played by Sophie Thompson, is definitely a love letter to our mum.

Did you consider letting your parents appear in the show?

Russell No, but I'm doing a travelogue with our mum for Comedy Central next year. She's far more entertaining than I could be.

Kerry She's losing her mind about it. She's already working out whether she's got time to do Loose Women.

Russell I'm slightly worried about what I'm going to unleash.

Kerry It's like Ricky Gervais and Karl Pilkington.

What happens at a Howard family Christmas?

Kerry We all play Balderdash and have a competition to buy the best presents. Russell's unbeatable – one year I bought him a clock and he got me a car. My mum and dad have the clock now – he didn't even like it.

Hot new looks for Joanna Lumley and David Walliams

Walliams and Friend

Christmas Eve, BBC1 HD, 10.05pm

David Walliams will be harder to avoid than Santa Claus over the Christmas period. As well as appearing in his children's story Billionaire Boy (see page 17), he'll also be teaming up with Joanna Lumley for this sketch show pilot. Highlights include the pair playing mother-and-daughter owners of a tanning shop – where tan colours include Oompa Loompa and Cheesy Wotsit – and a brilliantly saucy mickey-take of Bake Off's Paul Hollywood and Mary Berry. 'I know we've seen Joanna do comedy shows, but we've not seen her do comedy sketches before and actually she's got a really great range as a comedy actress,' says Walliams. 'It was wonderful writing for her.'

Peter Kay: 20 Years of Funny

There's something about Maria

Kara Tointon climbs every mountain in a special live performance of The Sound of Music

LIVE MUSICAL

The Sound of Music Live!

Sunday 20 December, ITV HD, 7.30pm

A Christmas rarely goes by without The Sound of Music being shown on our TV screens. But, this year, fans of the much-loved musical will receive an extra treat when ITV broadcasts a stage version of the Rodgers and Hammerstein classic.

The Sound of Music Live! will be performed at the Three Mills Studio in London and stars ex-EastEnders actress and Strictly winner Kara Tointon as novice nun-turned-governess Maria in the role made famous in 1965 by Julie Andrews.

Julian Ovenden and Kara Tointon

'The Sound of Music is all about happy memories of my childhood,' says Tointon. 'It was my family's go-to film and I grew up knowing every word of every song.

'Then, in my first amateur dramatic production, I was one of the children, Louisa, and later, I was Maria in a school play. In fact, it was those roles that made me realise I wanted to be an actress in the first place. So the emotional connection here is huge.'

FAMILY FANS

The show also stars Julian Ovenden as the widowed Captain von Trapp. Like Tointon, the story is significant to him.

'My grandparents were huge fans of the movie,' he reveals. 'At the end of her life, my grandmother had Alzheimer's and it seemed to comfort her to watch The Sound of Music on a daily basis. At her funeral, I tried to sing Edelweiss, but I didn't get very far.'

SALZBURG CALLING

To prepare for the performance, which also stars Alexander Armstrong and Katherine Kelly, the actors visited Salzburg in Austria where the von Trapps lived before fleeing the country from the Nazis.

The actors visited the real-life locations, including the von Trapps' former home. 'It's something I've always wanted to do,' says Tointon. 'Visiting Salzburg, in the footsteps of the von Trapps, reminds you the story is about real people, facing real jeopardy.'

Both stars have backgrounds in musical theatre, and Tointon wowed critics when she played Eliza Doolittle in a recent West End production of Pygmalion. 'I was delighted – and terrified – when I got the part of Maria,' she laughs. 'But now I'm really looking forward to the big night.

'It does feel a bit like leaping out of an aeroplane. But being scared is no bad thing. As a performer that's often where the magic happens.'

Imelda Staunton as Momma Rose

It's showtime

Imelda Staunton plays a pushy stage mother in Stephen Sondheim's classic musical

NEW MUSICAL

Gypsy: Live from the Savoy Theatre

Sunday 27 December, BBC4 HD, 9pm

Last Christmas saw Imelda Staunton show off her impressive song and dance prowess alongside Michael Ball in Victoria Wood's period musical That Day We Sang. This year, she's dazzling us once again as BBC4 airs her award-winning performance in Gypsy, which recently finished a sell-out run at London's Savoy Theatre.

Based on the memoirs of real-life burlesque dancer Gypsy Rose Lee, the 1920s-set Broadway classic sees Staunton play Momma Rose, who is determined

'I was delighted – and terrified – when I got the part of Maria' that her daughters June (Gemma Sutton) and Louise (Sherlock's Lara Pulver) will be stars. However, with old-fashioned vaudeville dying out and racy burlesque on its way up, her daughters are desperate to forge their own path.
KARA TOINTON

'Momma Rose is a fighter, and people like someone who, against all the odds, keeps going,' explains Staunton. 'But they also find her toughness shocking because she is a woman. I had to dig in every night as it's a disturbing, dark piece.'

The Stephen Sondheim musical, which also stars Peter Davison as Rose's boyfriend Herbie, features songs Everything's Coming Up Roses and You Gotta Get a Gimmick.

'It's a tough show on the voice so I was disciplined about doing the exercises, warm-ups and cool downs,' says Staunton. 'You wouldn't climb Everest without preparing and practising, and this is the same.'

For the 59-year-old, a well-deserved festive break now beckons, but there's one appointment she has to keep on Christmas Day – watching husband Jim Carter say goodbye to his role as butler Carson in Downton Abbey.

'Of course I'll be watching as my life wouldn't be worth living if I didn't,' she laughs. 'It will be lovely to sit down and watch with friends.'

An emperor penguin chick struggles to survive against the odds in the coldest place on the planet

NEW WILDLIFE

Snow Chick – A Penguin's Tale
Wednesday 23 December, BBC1 HD, 8.30pm

If you think it's nippy in Britain over the festive period, spare a thought for emperor penguin chicks growing up in the coldest place on Earth – the Antarctic, where in the middle of winter temperatures can drop to minus 60°C.

PERILOUS JOURNEY

In BBC1's enchanting film, Snow Chick – A Penguin's Tale, narrated by Kate Winslet, cameras follow a chick as he struggles for survival. Life is equally perilous for his parents, who take turns walking across 60 miles of ice to the sea in order to catch fish to keep their precious youngster alive.

'It is an incredible story,' says executive producer John Downer. 'And it's a story I was dying to tell because it has never been told before. The nearest has been March of the Penguins, but they took a much bigger overview.'

The idea to focus on one chick came about when making one of Downer's earlier productions, Penguins – Spy in the Huddle, filmed two years ago.

'The camera crew had spent a year on the ice for Spy in the Huddle and they noticed the smallest chick in the emperor colony because he was the cutest. So they started filming him.'

Although there wasn't room to include the chick's story in Spy in the Huddle, Downer knew that he had the basis of another film.

'It is probably the most intense study of an animal, certainly that I've done,' he says. 'Some of the behaviour is so extraordinary, you couldn't make it up.'

That includes the adult penguins holding identity parades when their partners return after weeks at sea.

'It may seem humorous, but it's real,' says Downer. 'Penguins can't tell each other apart, they can only identify each other by their unique calls. So the female has to march along a line of other penguins calling out and hoping that her partner calls back.'

PICKING FIGHTS

There is also the unexpected sight of penguins that haven't managed to breed trying to snatch someone else's chick. More amusing is the sight of a lone Adélie penguin (the breed featured in last year's John Lewis ad) turning up at the colony and picking fights with the much bigger emperor chicks.

'It was bonkers,' says Downer. 'He made himself at home and took pleasure in trying to beat everyone up. It was priceless.'

EMOTIONAL

When the snow chick is five months old, his parents go to the sea, leaving him forever. He, like all the other youngsters, then makes his own long trek to the sea in search of food which means plunging into the Antarctic Ocean for the first time.

'It is quite emotional as you know what he's been through to get there,' says Downer. 'Two adult penguins create this bundle of cuteness and are dedicated to him. Then they leave him and walk away without turning around. Their job is done. I think it's remarkable.'

David Attenborough goes underwater to explore one of the world's natural wonders

NEW WILDLIFE

Great Barrier Reef with David Attenborough
Wednesday 30 December, BBC1 HD, 9pm (Wales, BBC2)

In 1957, David Attenborough visited Australia's Great Barrier Reef for the first time. It left a lasting impression on the legendary broadcaster and naturalist.

'People ask me, "What was the most magical thing you ever saw?' And I always say, "The first time I scuba dived on the Great Barrier Reef". I suddenly saw these amazing multi-coloured species of astounding beauty.'

Now Attenborough is returning for a new BBC1 series – though the experience will be somewhat different nearly 60 years on.

‘Back then I just went down with an Aqua-lung and the footage was in black and white,’ recalls the veteran presenter, 89. ‘So I was excited to return with the latest technology.’

This time, he went 1000ft below the waves in a state-of-the-art Triton submersible.

‘Nobody has gone down that deep before. But it was like sitting in an armchair at home. The temperature is the same as it is above the surface, the air pressure is the same and you don’t have to worry about breathing. You can just sit there munching chocolates.’

Meanwhile, cutting-edge cameras capture the reef’s array of wildlife, including clownfish, the mantis shrimp, sharks, turtles and whales.

However, unlike on Attenborough’s first visit, the reef is now under threat and the final programme looks at the ways scientists are trying to help the coral cope with rapid climate change.

‘It is the severity and swiftness of the changes which are going to be catastrophic,’ says Attenborough. ‘They will affect the oceans and have a powerful impact on the nations who depend upon the sea for food.’

HORROR THRILLER

Sinister 2

Sky Store & Virgin Movies from Hol Mon 28 Dec ★★★

Sex ●●● Violence ●●● Language ●●●

The demonic entity from 2012's frightening Sinister returns with his gang of ghostly children to corrupt and consume more innocent souls. James Ransone's dopey deputy is also back, now playing protector to a runaway wife (Shannyn Sossamon) and her twin sons, and they face enough scares to keep your nerves on edge. 2015, 15, 97MIN

Ant-Man

Possessing a special suit that enables the wearer to shrink to the size of an ant seems a comically puny superpower to give a hero, yet Paul Rudd's miniscule Ant-Man punches well above his weight. This engaging Marvel Comics adventure makes the most of the humour inherent in the scenario. (12, 117min)

Inside Out

Pixar's best film since Toy Story 3 and Up finds five personified emotions living inside an 11-year-old girl's head, guiding her feelings. The film works as an engaging adventure, packed with colour and incident, while also cleverly and humorously mapping out the workings of the brain. (U, 102min)

The Man from U.N.C.L.E.

Guy Ritchie gives the iconic 1960s TV series a slick and stylish reboot. Set in 1963 against a backdrop of Cold War suspicion and jet-set cool, the film finds the mismatched spy duo – suave CIA operative Napoleon Solo (Henry Cavill) and scowling KGB agent Illya Kuryakin (Armie Hammer) – joining forces to thwart a gang of nuclear-bomb wielding baddies. (12, 116min)

Mission: Impossible – Rogue Nation

Tom Cruise's fifth outing as daredevil spy Ethan Hunt delivers another entertaining round of white-knuckle thrills teetering on the edge of absurdity. With Alec Baldwin's CIA chief striving to disband the IMF, Hunt is on the trail of a shadowy organisation of spies, aided by Simon Pegg's bungling sidekick Benji and by Rebecca Ferguson's mysterious femme fatale. (12, 131min)

PREMIERE (Sky Store & Virgin Movies from Hol Mon 28 Dec) See review, above. (15, 97min)

Paper Towns

Cara Delevingne transfers her quirky cool from the catwalk to the screen for her first leading film role, playing the free-spirited Florida teenager whose mysterious disappearance sends her dorky neighbour (Nat Wolff) and friends on a road trip across the States to find her. The mystery is engaging, although the mood is safe rather than edgy. (12, 116min)

Southpaw

Jake Gyllenhaal, pumped up and fighting fit, oozes blood, sweat and tears with conviction as a boxing champion whose life is left in ruins following a shock incident. This timeworn melodrama of loss and redemption pummels us into submission with brutal action inside the ring and, unfortunately, relentless clichés everywhere else. (15, 124min)

Ted 2

The inevitable sequel to 2012's shamelessly rude buddy comedy about a Boston slacker and his living teddy bear chum has enough puerile fun to keep fans of the first film satisfied. Mark Wahlberg is back as stoner John and Seth MacFarlane again voices stuffed bear Ted, who finds himself caught up in a legal wrangle. (15, 116min)

Trainwreck

As writer and star of this raunchy romcom, American comedian Amy Schumer unleashes the drunken slut persona – a hard-partying New York singleton – from her cable TV comedy sketch series Inside Amy Schumer. Director Judd Apatow steers the film into familiar territory, but Schumer's taboo-busting japes still create quite a frisson. (15, 125min)

The Transporter Refuelled

PREMIERE (Sky Store & Virgin Movies from Hol Mon 28 Dec) Rapper-turned-actor Ed Skrein takes the wheel from Jason Statham's underworld driver for this relaunch of the action thriller franchise, but there is not much gas left in the tank. The story is desperately lame and the car chases unexciting, with pursuing vehicles flipping end over end with tiresome regularity, and Skrein can't match Statham's muscular heft and tongue-in-cheek charisma. (15, 96min)

Hitman: Agent 47

PREMIERE (Sky Store & Virgin Movies from Mon 21 Dec) Rupert Friend plays an assassin even deadlier than Homeland's Peter Quinn in this sci-fi action thriller. A genetically engineered killer – complete with a barcode on the back of his shaven head and a number for a name – he is predictably unstoppable. However, his indestructibility means the story's formulaic action never gets particularly gripping, while the slick sheen gives the film the look of a luxury car advert. (15, 96min)

Angelina Jolie gives a spellbinding performance as the wicked fairy in Disney's re-imagining of their 1959 cartoon Sleeping Beauty. This time around, though, the malevolent fairy is more misunderstood than evil when she puts a curse on the king's baby daughter. The action sequences are well-handled, there are some cute slapstick interludes, and this good-looking fable splendidly turns the original tale's denouement on its head. Also on Monday 21 December, Christmas Day, Tuesday 29 December & New Year's Eve. 2014, PG, 97MIN

Ten years after their last screen outing, Will Smith and Tommy Lee Jones return as Men in Black agents J and K, and are once again tasked with protecting Earth from the scum of the universe. The new story finds Smith's J being sent back in time to 1969, where he has to save the life of the young K (played by Josh Brolin). Once again, it is the bickering byplay between Smith and Jones and the fleeting visual jokes going on at the edges of the action that hold your interest. 2012, PG, 106MIN

Retelling the story of Moses for this biblical epic, Ridley Scott doesn't stint on the spectacle, depicting the 10 plagues of Egypt and the parting of the Red Sea with entertaining gusto. The Nile here doesn't simply run red; it has ferocious crocodiles snapping up the locals, too. The stuff in between the set-piece scenes isn't half so energetic, though. The rivalry between Christian Bale's ardent Moses and Joel Edgerton's decadent Ramses, his jealous adoptive brother-turned-bitter foe, is more turgid than gripping. The story picks up, fortunately, when Moses accepts his divine mission to free the Hebrew slaves from bondage and the flight from Egypt is stirring stuff, although Scott relies a little too much on the CGI special effects. Also on Boxing Day-New Year's Day. 2014, 12, 150MIN

Just how safe was the galaxy in their hands?

SCI-FI ADVENTURE

Guardians of the Galaxy

Sky Showcase HD, 2pm & 8pm ★★★★

Sex ●●● Violence ●●● Language ●●●

Buoyed along by snarky banter and breezy 1970s pop, this freewheeling Marvel Comics movie is a giddily entertaining sci-fi romp about a misfit band of vagabonds and freaks who stumble into a quest to save the galaxy from destruction. The group's self-appointed leader is Chris Pratt's swaggering space adventurer, and he gets oddball support from the likes of a talking raccoon, voiced by Bradley Cooper, Zoë Saldana's green-skinned alien and Vin Diesel's walking tree. 2014, 12, 121MIN

BIOPIC

One Chance

Channel 5 HD, 1.50pm/ Channel 5+1, 2.50pm ★★★

Sex ●●● Violence ●●● Language ●●●

James Corden hits all the right notes in this charming biopic of Paul Potts, the phone salesman and angelic tenor who became the first winner of Britain's Got Talent. Plucky, funny and endearingly ordinary, he keeps you rooting for this unlikely hero as his desire for a singing career hits setbacks, including a bike crash, appendicitis and a crippling attack of nerves during a masterclass with his idol, Luciano Pavarotti. 2013, 12, 103MIN

The winner of a Best Animated Film Oscar, this masterpiece from Pixar sees 78-year-old widower Carl setting off to fulfil a dream to see the Paradise Falls in South America by tying thousands of balloons to his home and flying away. Joining him for the ride is eight-year-old Russell, a Wilderness Explorer Scout who inadvertently becomes a stowaway. There are laughs along the way, thrills and spills, and an ending that will leave you sniffling. 2009, U, 96MIN

MUSICAL COMEDY

The Sapphires

BBC2 HD, 9pm ★★★

Sex ●●● Violence ●●● Language ●●●

PREMIERE Based on a hit stage musical and inspired by a true story, this infectiously entertaining movie is a charming feelgood tale with a great soul music soundtrack. Set in 1968 Australia, the film finds three feisty Aboriginal sisters and their cousin (Miranda Tapsell, Deborah Mailman, Jessica Mauboy and Shari Sebbens) being launched as a soul-singing group when Chris O'Dowd's boozy Irish music promoter spots their potential. 2012, PG, 103MIN

COMEDY THRILLER

Kingsman: The Secret Service

Sky Premiere HD, 4pm & 8pm
Sky Premiere+1, 5pm & 9pm ★★★★

Sex ●●● Violence ●●● Language ●●●

Playing like My Fair Lady remade as a spy thriller, this cheeky James Bond pastiche fizzes with tongue-in-cheek humour and larky ultra-violence. Brace yourself as Colin Firth's urbane toff transforms Taron Egerton's south London hoodie into a debonair agent for the Kingsman secret service, while striving to foil the schemes of Samuel L Jackson's telecommunications billionaire. The team behind Kick-Ass sometimes push things too far, but the performances are spot on. Jackson's hip-hop attired tycoon is a hoot, Egerton has a winning swagger, and Michael Caine, Sofia Boutella and Mark Strong provide entertaining support. Best of all is Firth, dispatching a pub-load of thugs with his brolly and cutting an immaculately well-tailored dash with panache. 2015, 15, 129MIN

ANIMATED ADVENTURE

Sky Premiere HD, 10.50am & 6.15pm/Sky Premiere+1, 11.50am & 7.15pm ★★★★

Sex ●●● Violence ●●● Language ●●●

PREMIERE A lonely accident-prone alien befriends a lonely human teenager in this animated sci-fi comedy adventure. The set-up is hardly out of this world, but the starry voice cast provides plenty of breezy fun. The Big Bang Theory's Jim Parsons voices the alien, a blobby tentacled creature called Oh, and Rihanna is the girl, Tip, left behind after Oh's timid race, the Boov, invade Earth and deport all the humans to Australia. 2014, U, 94MIN

ROMANTIC COMEDY

Top Five

Sky Premiere HD, 12.30pm & 12.45am/Sky Premiere+1, 1.30pm & 1.45am ★★★★

Sex ●●● Violence ●●● Language ●●●

PREMIERE Chris Rock gives the romantic comedy genre a playful and provocative spin as writer, director and star of this semi-autobiographical tale about a stand-up comedian-turned-Hollywood star who fears he has lost his funny bones since he stopped drinking. Unlike his screen alter ego, Rock need have no fear of losing his ability to make people laugh as the jokes fly thick and fast on race, rap, sex and celebrity. 2014, 15, 102MIN

ANIMATED COMEDY

Wreck-It Ralph

BBC1 HD, 4.30pm ★★★★

Sex ●●● Violence ●●● Language ●●●

Wreck-It Ralph is the building-smashing bad guy in a 1980s arcade game, but at heart he is really a big softie who aches to be the hero who saves the day. So he breaks out of his game and sets off on his quest, unleashing mayhem across the arcade, stumbling through video games from different eras and allowing Disney's animators to utilise a variety of visual styles. The film is full of sweet-natured fun and gamers will enjoy the gaming in-jokes. 2012, PG, 108MIN

Penguins of Madagascar

Sky Family HD, 4.40pm ★★★★

Sex ●●● Violence ●●● Language ●●●

The cute penguin quartet from the Madagascar movies get their own spin-off movie with a rollicking action caper, stuffed full of glorious gags. The story finds the foursome striving to stop a mad octopus scientist (voiced by John Malkovich) from turning all the penguins from the world's zoos into monsters. But the blithely overconfident bunglers keep getting in the way of an elite team of animal commandos led by a suave wolf (Benedict Cumberbatch). 2014, U, 92MIN

SCI-FI ADVENTURE

Interstellar

Sky Showcase HD, 8pm ★★★★

Sex ●●● Violence ●●● Language ●●●

With the world on the verge of ecological catastrophe, Matthew McConaughey's former Nasa test pilot commands a spaceship on a mission to find potentially habitable planets. Director Christopher Nolan's staggeringly ambitious space epic veers between the clunky and the corny, but the stellar acting of McConaughey, plus Mackenzie Foy and Jessica Chastain (both playing his daughter at different ages), keeps us strapped to our seats. 2014, 12, 169MIN

ACTION THRILLER

Skyfall

ITV2 HD, 8pm/ITV2+1, 9pm ★★★★

Sex ●●● Violence ●●● Language ●●●

Fifty years after his first screen adventure, James Bond is in rude health in the shape of Daniel Craig, whose third outing in the role finds 007 tracking down a hard drive containing the identities of every undercover agent in MI6. Director Sam Mendes does an extremely canny job of combining old-school Bond (including the iconic Aston Martin DB5) with new innovations, showing respect for the series' heritage while also delivering a few surprises. 2012, 12, 143MIN

Les Misérables

Film4 HD, 9pm/Film4+1, 10pm ★★★★

Sex ●●● Violence ●●● Language ●●●

The world's longest-running stage musical, set during the Paris Rebellion of 1832, transfers to the screen with gusto. Hugh Jackman displays his Broadway pedigree as Victor Hugo's ex-convict hero Jean Valjean; Russell Crowe, his singing better than you might expect, gives his all as Valjean's implacable enemy, the vengeful Javert; and an Oscar-winning Anne Hathaway sings I Dreamed a Dream in one supercharged unbroken take. 2012, 12, 158MIN

Sports Personality of the Year

Gabby Logan's guide to this year's nominees

Hosts Clare Balding, Gary Lineker and Gabby Logan

LIVE AWARDS

Sunday 20 December, BBC1 HD, 6.50pm

As Belfast's SSE Arena plays host to this year's Sports Personality of the Year for the first time, host Gabby Logan assesses the 12 contenders…

LIZZIE ARMITSTEAD

The Olympic silver medallist cyclist became world road race champion – only the fourth British woman to win the title.

'The world road race doesn't get tens of millions watching, but cycling always does well with voters, and aficionados will recognise her achievement.'

LUCY BRONZE

The 24-year-old Manchester City footballer scored crucial goals as England finished third in the women's World Cup.

'There are no male players on the shortlist this year so only Lucy represents football. She had a magnificent World Cup.'

JESSICA ENNIS-HILL

Became heptathlon world champion 13 months after the birth of her son.

'Jess is such an incredible competitor that the other athletes shook in her presence. They underperformed because of her magnificence.'

South Africa v England: First Test

Boxing Day, Sky Sports 2 HD, play starts 8am

The uncapped Alex Hales could be Alastair Cook's latest opening partner for the tour of South Africa after Moeen Ali's recent struggles. Meanwhile, uncapped pace bowler Mark Footitt and spinner Samit Patel are also included in the squad for England's four Tests, beginning in Durban on Boxing Day, against the top-ranked side in the world.

King George VI Chase

Boxing Day, Channel 4 HD, race starts 3.10pm

Silviniaco Conti is a whopping 10/1 to complete a famous hat-trick of wins in the steeplechase at Kempton on Boxing Day. The fact that the Paul Nicholls-trained runner, who disappointed at the Cheltenham Gold Cup, is such big odds reflects the quality of the opposition he faces in the three-mile race, which is headed by 5/2 favourite Vautour, who'll be partnered by Ruby Walsh.

Yearguide

MO FARAH

Britain's most decorated athlete repeated his 5000m and 10,000m golds at the world championships.
'Mo is a phenomenon. He's dominated his events for four years now. His opponents just can't find a strategy to beat him.'

LEWIS HAMILTON

Won his third F1 crown and became the first Briton to win the title two years running.
'Lewis dominated the season, winning the title with three races remaining, but people shouldn't think it was easy for him. It wasn't. He just makes it look easy.'

GREG RUTHERFORD

The long jumper added a world championship gold to his Olympic, Commonwealth and European titles.
'Greg is an easy-going guy who became this very different, incredibly focused competitor with a knack for always pulling out the big jumps.'

CHRIS FROOME

Overcame media and crowd anger to take a second Tour de France victory.
'Chris faced a lot of hostility in this year's Tour, but turned that into real positivity. I read his autobiography recently and you can see where his steeliness comes from.'

ANDY MURRAY

Led Great Britain to an historic victory in the Davis Cup.
'His final singles match in the final against Belgium was absolutely brilliant. It's a myth that Andy isn't popular with the public as he showed when winning Sports Personality in 2013.'

KEVIN SINFIELD

The rugby league star retired in style by helping Leeds Rhinos win the treble for the first time in the club's history.
'Kevin remained at the top of an incredibly tough sport. His roll of honour is phenomenal and his last year was exceptional.'

TYSON FURY

The boxer outpointed Wladimir Klitschko to become heavyweight champion of the world.
'Tyson is one of the more controversial characters on the shortlist. It will be interesting to see how he comes across on the night.'

ADAM PEATY

The 20-year-old became the first swimmer ever to win both sprint breaststrokes at the same world championships.
'I watched all of his races in Russia, and I love his attitude to competing. He should be one of our stars in Rio next year.'

MAX WHITLOCK

The pommel horse specialist became the first British male gymnast ever to win a world championship gold.
'Again, this was an historic occasion. Britain is now a real force in gymnastics – we have started beating the Americans and Chinese.'

LIVE PREMIER LEAGUE

Newcastle United v Everton

Boxing Day, BT Sport 1 HD, kick-off 5.30pm

With the hosts struggling, the Toffees' Ross Barkley will want to add to his record of three goals in four games against the Magpies. This clash usually produces plenty of goals.

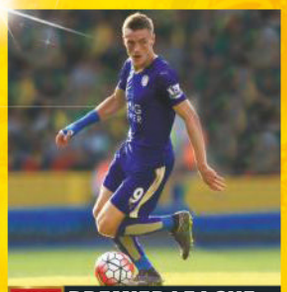

LIVE PREMIER LEAGUE

Manchester United v Chelsea

Holiday Monday 28 December, BT Sport 1 HD, kick-off 5.30pm

Given their awful start, Chelsea might find it hard to better their lowest Premier League finish, 14th. United haven't beaten the champions at Old Trafford for more than four years.

LIVE PREMIER LEAGUE

Leicester City v Manchester City

Tuesday 29 December, BT Sport 1 HD, kick-off 7.45pm

It's been a remarkable year for Leicester City, with last season's dramatic escape from relegation followed by a surge up the table. Can Jamie Vardy and co round off 2015 by beating Man City?

Sky 1 has our festive viewing all wrapped up with something for everyone, including documentaries, comedy, family drama and more...

FAMILY

Timothy Spall (inset) stars as Fungus (above, right) with his wife Mildew in Bogeydom

Fungus the Bogeyman

COMEDY DRAMA Sky 1 HD, Sunday 27 December, 6pm; Holiday Monday 28 December, 6.30pm & Tuesday 29 December, 6.30pm*

EDITOR'S CHOICE Timothy Spall, Victoria Wood and Keeley Hawes lead an all-star cast in this enchanting three-part drama, which mixes live action and animation, inspired by author Raymond Briggs' much-loved children's tale.

Fungus the Bogeyman is the story of darkness-dwelling bogeyman Fungus (Spall) his wife Mildew, played by No Offence star Joanna Scanlan, and their son Mould. When Mould becomes curious about life above ground, they are forced to leave their grimy home in Bogeydom and disguise themselves as humans or 'Drycleaners', as they are called, because they are drier and cleaner than themselves.

As Fungus and his family struggle to adjust to life in Daventry, they meet kindly eccentric Eve (Wood), who is more than willing to guide them through the minefield of human ways. But is she all she seems? They are also introduced to Daryl and Wendy Hedge, their stressed-out next door neighbours, played by Marc Warren and Hawes.

Narrated by Andy Serkis, the show also stars Game of Thrones actor Paul Kaye as Scarface the much-feared Bogeyhunter, who is hot on their grubby trail...

COMEDY

Jane Horrocks's Julie surprises the Valco staff

Trollied: A Christmas Carol

COMEDY Sky 1 HD, Wednesday 23 December, 9pm*

It's Christmas Eve at Valco and the staff are shocked when manager Gavin (Jason Watkins) turns Scrooge and insists his staff come in on Christmas Day. As a seasonal sale brings chaos to the aisles, Gavin receives a visitation from his past when his old colleague Julie (Jane Horrocks) drops in to catch up with the team. Can she help to remind him of the true meaning of Christmas? Look out for guest star Richard Wilson.

DOCUMENTARY

Patrick Aryee with a clouded leopard

Big Cats: An Amazing Animal Family

WILDLIFE Sky 1 HD, Holiday Monday 28 December, 8pm*

PICK OF THE DAY Featuring an amazing array of wild cats, biologist Patrick Aryee presents a stunning two-part documentary on the history of feline evolution. Aryee gets within a whisker of the big cats in their natural habitat, beginning in Asia, home to the oldest of all cat groups, before discovering how they evolved from the jungles and plains into 37 different species. In South Africa, he learns about conservation at a sanctuary run by 'lion whisperer 'Kevin Richardson.

COMING SOON – DON'T MISS THESE SHOWS IN JANUARY

James Corden is back for more sport-themed fun

A League of Their Own ENTERTAINMENT Sky 1 HD January

NEW SERIES Rejoin the hit game show hosted by James Corden as it returns for a tenth series (and celebrates its 100th episode) with more banter, hilarious stunts and trivia. Whether it's ski-jumping in the studio, or dangerous dodgeball, no challenge is too great for team regulars Jamie Redknapp, Freddie Flintoff and Jack Whitehall, who prove they really are in a league of their own.

James Nesbitt is on the run as DI Harry Clayton

Stan Lee's Lucky Man DRAMA Sky 1 HD January

EDITOR'S CHOICE James Nesbitt stars as London murder detective Harry Clayton in legendary comic book writer Stan Lee's first TV drama for the UK. Clayton is down on his luck. His wife and child have left him after huge gambling debts cost him their family home, and a crime boss is threatening to kill him. But then a mysterious woman gives him an ancient bracelet that enables him to make his own luck, and his life starts to change in remarkable ways. Eve Best (Nurse Jackie), Sienna Guillory (Fortitude), Darren Boyd (Spy) and Omid Djalili (Moonfleet) also star.

bathing solutions
it's who we are; it's what we do

Change your old, uncomfortable bath for the revolutionary, all new Princess shower module from Bathing Solutions in under a day* – it's that EASY!

1. Low-threshold tray makes getting in and out safe and easy.
2. Optional sliding glass doors or splash guard make showering safe and secure; no splashes on the floor either!
3. Fold up seat – for even more comfortable and safe showering.
4. Easy-clean, tile-effect walls – so there's no messy grout and keeping it clean is simple.
5. Fits where your existing bath is now.

EASY for us to install, EASY for you to look after and best of all, EASY on your budget; the new Princess shower module has it all.

clear screen glass screen protection system

Clear Screen's coating repels lime scale and soap scum, keeping the glass clean and smear free. A simple quick wipe with a cloth will keep the glass on your shower sparkling, with more than 20% better brilliance.

micro shield bacteria growth protection

Bacteria growth is reduced by over 99% with Microshield integrated into the Princess shower. Microshield will not wash off or wear away; it keeps the shower more hygienic and therefore fresher and cleaner.
